TODAY THE ODD FELLOWS WILL LAY THEIR CORNER STONE

INDEPENDENT ORDER OF ODD FELLOWS BUILDING, AS IT WILL LOOK WHEN COMPLETED, THE CORNER STONE OF WHICH IS TO BE LAID TODAY.

Address of the Day Will Be Made by Hon. W. O. Smith—Judge Estee Will Not Be Able to Attend—Program and Line of March.

With elaborate ceremonies the cornerstone for the handsome new building of the Odd Fellows will be laid today. The program has been completed for this afternoon's celebration and the event will be the greatest in the history of the Odd Fellows in Hawaii. The corner stone of the building, which the new structure is to replace, was laid nearly fifty years ago, and the ceremony on that occasion was also very elaborate.

The various branches of the I. O. O. F. in the city, Excelsior No. 1, Harmony No. 3, Polynesian Encampment No. 1, Pacific Rebekah No. 1 and Olive Branch No. 2 will meet in their respective halls early in the afternoon and march to Elk's hall, the general meeting place. They will be joined here by Oahu Lodge No. 1, K. of P., the Sons of St. George, Hawaiian Tribe No. 1, O. R. M., Honolulu Aerie 140 and probably other fraternal organizations. The lodges will march at 3:30 o'clock from Elk's hall under the leadership of Grand Marshal J. Lando.

The line of march will be from Beretania down Miller to Hotel street, down Hotel to Richards, then to King and down King to Fort, and to site of the building.

At the building the stone will be laid by Noble Grand L. Petrie, assisted by the officers of Excelsior Lodge and by the architect, Mr. Traphagen.

A copper box will be laid within the corner stone; the stone is to be plain and will be set well within the wall. The following articles will be placed in the box:

Copy of the daily papers of October 24 and 25, 1903.
A set of Kalakaua coins; presented by E. C. Rowe, P. G.
A small Hawaiian flag.
A list of the officers and members of Excelsior Lodge No. 1, Harmony Lodge No. 3, Polynesian Encampment No. 1, Pacific Rebekah Lodge No. 1, Olive Branch Rebekah Lodge No. 2.

The corner stone of the first building was laid April 26th, 1859, and from the Polynesian of April 30th, the following account of the ceremony is taken:

"One of the greatest pageants, in many respects, ever witnessed on these islands was undoubtedly the celebration of the 40th anniversary of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in the United States of America, by the united action of Excelsior Lodge No. 1 and Polynesian Encampment No. 1. Also the ceremony of laying the corner stone of a new hall for the use of the order. Both of which occurrences took place on the same day, the 26th instant."

Preceding the exercises there was a procession preceded by a band which marched to the Fort street church "which was soon filled with a large and attentive audience, among which we noticed His Majesty the King, the Chief Justice of the Kingdom, the Commissioners of France and the United States, and many other gentlemen of note."

Rev. E. Corwin, pastor of the church, preached a sermon and Rev. S. C. Damon officiated with prayer and benediction. The day was generally observed as a holiday and in the evening a ball was given by the two lodges at the Bungalow.

The program for this afternoon's service will be as follows, Judge Estee's address being necessarily omitted because of his illness:

1. Opening remarks by Noble Grand.
2. Ode. By choir and Lodge.
3. Prayer. By Chaplain.
4. Response. So may it be.
5. Reading list of the contents of corner stone. By Secretary.
6. Ceremony of laying corner stone.

A SOUTHERN NOVELIST HERE

The Richmond, Va., News-Leader speaks as follows of a lady who arrived on the Alameda and is now a guest of the Moana hotel:

Miss Nannie B. Winston, the novelist, will sail Oct. 17 from San Francisco for Honolulu, and will spend the winter there and in Japan. Miss Winston will be with a party of friends, but will take the trip across the continent alone, going by the Chesapeake and Ohio to Chicago, where she will spend a night.

Miss Winston will do some literary work while away, and probably collect material which she will use later in a book. She already is well known in the literary world, being the author of two novels, "Waters That Pass Away" and the "Grace Of Orders," besides doing a large amount of magazine work. She is a wide reader and an extensive traveler, and the underlying purpose of her writings is to instruct. She has recently returned from a visit to Miss Julia Magruder, of Washington, another successful writer, and before leaving for Honolulu will make a short trip to New York.

Miss Winston is the daughter of Mr. James B. Winston, whose home is in Glen Allen. She will be sincerely missed next winter, her charming conversational powers making her one of the most delightful of the Richmond coterie of writers.

It was reported last night that thirteen carloads of Home Rulers had gone to Pearl City for a political luau and that more cars could have been filled.

WEST HAWAII IS FIRMLY REPUBLICAN

H. L. Holstein writes denying the report from Kona that there is great Home Rule enthusiasm there. He says that "West Hawaii will pile up a majority of 400 for the Republican ticket" and adds: "We would like to have Messrs. Robinson and Beckley up here, but believe they have their hands full in Honolulu; that it would be unwise to alter their plans, and while West Hawaii is not deficient of speakers and organizers in the Republican ranks, still such orators as you have there would be welcome to our County meetings, as they may give us some pointers as to how a meeting should be conducted."

"There is one thing we are certain of up here, and that is, if Oahu County, Maui County and East Hawaii can be as sure of Republican gains and success as West Hawaii, there would not be that discouragement as seems to pervade the political atmosphere in the former places mentioned."

U. S. JUDGE ESTEE IS RESTING WELL

Judge Estee underwent an operation at Miss Johnson's sanitarium yesterday afternoon for a derangement of the kidneys, which was successfully performed. Drs. Wood and Mays were the surgeons. Last night Judge Estee was reported as resting well. His chances for recovery are good.
